

More than a meme.

Bluzo ($BLZ) is a community token on Solana with a blue husky for a face and one rule: show what can be checked.

Same spirit. New story. A brighter tomorrow.

This paper describes Bluzo's concept and launch framework. It is informational, will change as the project develops, and is not a promise of profit or investment return.

Check the mint, not the ticker.

Bluzo's ticker is $BLZ. It is written into the token's on-chain metadata, and that metadata can no longer be changed.

Other tokens use BLZ too — including Bluzelle, an unrelated project listed on several exchanges, and look-alike tokens on Solana itself. A ticker proves nothing. The mint address is the only thing that identifies Bluzo.

02 — EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Bluzo is a meme token on Solana built around an original character: a blue husky in black sunglasses with a gold tag on his collar. It pairs the reach of meme culture with a plain token design, published facts and decisions anyone can verify.

The token is live on Solana mainnet. Its supply is fixed at 1,000,000,000 $BLZ; nobody can mint more, nobody can freeze a holder's tokens, and its metadata cannot be edited. Those facts are on-chain today, and this paper shows where to check each one.

What comes next — a liquidity pool, published allocation wallets, the website, community campaigns and exchange access — is planned, not promised. Holding $BLZ gives no right to profit, income or ownership.

Attention fades. Characters and facts don't.

Most meme tokens disappear when attention moves on. Bluzo bets on the two things attention can't fake: a character people like, and facts people can check.

VISION

A meme brand people recognise from across a room — a character whose world can grow beyond one token into content, digital experiences and community projects.

MISSION

Launch with public facts, a clear allocation and an approachable identity, give the community real things to do, and keep the token simple enough to explain on one page.

He never promises the moon. He promises the walk.

Bluzo is a blue husky: a snow dog, a sled dog, a pack animal. Optimistic, loyal and honest to a fault. Huskies pull together — nobody pulls the sled alone.

Blue coat

The only thing on any page this blue.

Sunglasses

Snow glare is real. On the website his lenses show live data.

The wave

He always says hello first.

Gold tag

Every good dog has an ID tag. Bluzo's is the mint address.

A standard token with its switches turned off.

Everything on this page can be checked on a public explorer. Nothing here is a plan.

What “revoked” means

On Solana, a token’s creator can keep two switches: one to print new tokens, one to freeze anyone’s balance. Bluzo turned both off at launch, and no key is left that could turn them back on.

Check it yourself: open the mint on Solscan. “Mint authority” and “Freeze authority” both show no address.

Where the 1,000,000,000 $BLZ sit.

One hundred cells, one per cent each. Every cell is 10,000,000 $BLZ.

One cell = 1% = 10,000,000 $BLZ.

- 01 Liquidity & exchanges. Pool depth on Solana DEXs and, if confirmed, centralized exchanges.
- 02 Marketing & promotion. Campaigns, creators and visibility. Paid promotion is always labelled.
- 03 Community & rewards. Contests, creator rewards and community campaigns.
- 04 Development & ecosystem. The website, community tools and future experiences.
- 05 Team. The people building Bluzo.
- 06 Reserve. Held back for needs nobody can predict yet.

STATUS • 24 SEP 2026

The full supply sits in one project wallet, visible on-chain, waiting to be split into the six allocation wallets. Every wallet address will be published before the liquidity pool opens. Team and reserve allocations may use disclosed locks or vesting; any such arrangement will be published with its unlock dates.

A shared symbol, and things to do with it.

At launch, $BLZ is a community token. Its first job is to give the pack a common symbol and common things to do.

PLANNED USES MAY INCLUDE

- Community campaigns and contests
- Creator and promotional rewards
- Branded experiences and events
- Partnerships
- Future digital utilities

COMMUNITY TOOLS PLANNED FOR THE WEBSITE

Mint checker

Paste any address and see whether it is Bluzo. It runs in your browser; nothing is sent anywhere.

Official links

The one list of real accounts and addresses, dated, with every change logged.

The shades

Put Bluzo's sunglasses on your own profile picture — the pack's badge.

Meme kit

The character, poses and type, free for the community to use.

A utility is announced when it works, not before. No utility, planned or live, guarantees value to holders.

On-chain first.

Solana. Bluzo's first market is planned as a Raydium liquidity pool. Its address will be published on official channels when it is live — trade only through that address.

Centralized exchanges. WEEX is the current target. Listing, trading pair, network support, deposits, withdrawals, market-making and timing all depend on the exchange's own review. Because other assets already use the BLZ ticker, an exchange may list Bluzo under a different display ticker; the mint address stays the identifier.

Operating funds. The project may commit tokens and stablecoins to liquidity or market-making. Those are operating decisions, not promises about price, volume or liquidity.

Verify Bluzo in four steps.

-  01 Take the mint from two official sources — this paper and the official website — and check they match.
-  02 Open it on Solscan: supply 1,000,000,000, decimals 6, no mint authority, no freeze authority.
-  03 Open RugCheck for an independent report on the same address.
-  04 In your wallet or on a DEX, search by the mint address — never by “BLZ” — and compare B79v ... 58V7.

WHAT BLUZO WILL NEVER DO

DM you first · ask for a seed phrase or private key · ask you to “validate” or “sync” a wallet · announce a token, airdrop or sale anywhere but its official channels.

Bluzo is a meme token. It promises no return, and its price can go to zero.

Dated when done. Ordered, not dated, when next.

We would rather arrive late than promise early. Anything without a date is a direction, not a deadline.

Recognisable, and easy to make things with.

Bluzo grows by being recognisable from across a room and by giving people something to make.

Identity	One character and one world — daylight on snow — used the same way everywhere.
Content	Short videos and images of Bluzo's life in the snow; the pack's own memes, shared back.
Creators	Collaborations are disclosed as paid whenever they are paid.
Campaigns	Dated, with published rules and published results.
Separation	Promotion never dresses up as token facts and never promises profit, returns or price.

Run by a team, in public.

Bluzo is run by its project team. Day-to-day decisions cover treasury management, marketing allocations, partnerships, exchange coordination and technical maintenance.

The team may add community participation mechanisms later. Until one is actually deployed, Bluzo is not a decentralized governance system and $BLZ carries no voting rights. Material changes to allocations or official addresses will be announced publicly, before they happen where possible.

Read this page before you buy anything.

Bluzo is a meme token. It promises no return, and its price can go to zero.

Volatility	Meme tokens can lose most or all of their value quickly.
Liquidity	There may be too few buyers or sellers to trade at a fair price, or at all.
Impersonation	Fake tokens, look-alike addresses and tokens sharing the BLZ ticker exist. Only the mint address identifies Bluzo.
Technical	Blockchains, wallets, DEXs and exchanges can fail, be exploited or pause.
Exchanges	Listings can be delayed, refused, changed or reversed, and exchanges restrict users by country.
Regulation	Rules for digital assets differ by country and can change.
No rights	Holding $BLZ is not ownership of a company, a deposit, debt, equity or a right to income.
Not advice	Nothing in this paper is financial, investment, tax or legal advice. Do your own research and never commit money you cannot afford to lose.

GLOSSARY

Mint address	The permanent, unique address of a token on Solana. Bluzo has exactly one.
Ticker	A short trading symbol. Anyone can reuse one, so it proves nothing.
Mint authority	The right to create new tokens. Bluzo's is revoked.
Freeze authority	The right to freeze a holder's tokens. Bluzo's is revoked.
Metadata	The token's name, ticker and logo link. Bluzo's is immutable.
Liquidity pool	Two tokens held together so people can swap between them on a DEX.
Decimals	How finely a token divides. $BLZ has 6.

Good dogs, brighter days.
